K2fly Announces New Contract Win

Highlights

- K2fly wins interim Systems Integration contract with Western Power
- The contract will see K2fly providing leading edge support to the business function relating to a Customer Relationship Management (CRM) program
- The contract length is approximately 3-4 months and will contribute to the Company's revenues.

K2fly Limited (K2fly or the Company) is pleased to announce that it has won a short term interim Systems Integration contract with Western Power. The assignment will see K2fly providing leading edge support to the business function relating to a CRM program. The contract will run for approximately 3-4 months and due to its size, it will make a material contribution to K2fly's revenues for FY2019. The revenues arising from this contract are expected to be up to $550,000.

Brian Miller, Executive Chairman and CEO of K2fly commented, "K2fly is delighted to be awarded this significant piece of work which sees the Company working with the business as well as ICT within Western Power. This was a competitive tender process and K2fly has won the right to act as the interim systems integrator for Western Power."

The assignment kicks off almost immediately and will run for a period of 3-4 months.
