PRINCIPLE 1: LAY SOLID FOUNDATIONS FOR MANAGEMENT AND OVERSIGHT.

A listed entity should establish and disclose the respective roles and responsibilities of its board and management and how their performance is monitored and evaluated.

The Board is ultimately accountable for the performance of the Company and is responsible for the strategic direction, policies, practices, establishing goals for management and the operation of the Company. It appoints the Chief Executive Officer (Executive Director) and approves the appointment of other Executive Directors and assesses their performance on an annual basis. It is responsible for overseeing all corporate reporting systems, remuneration frameworks, governance issues, and stakeholder communications.

Management is responsible for implementing the Board's strategy, day-to-day operational aspects, and ensuring that all material risks and performance issues are brought to the Board's attention. They must operate within the authority delegated to the position, as set by the Board.

The Company has adopted a Board Charter that sets out the objectives, responsibilities and administration of the board of directors and its relationship with the Chief Executive Officer of the Company, and any committees of the Board that may be established.

A copy of the Board Charter adopted by the Company is available from the Company's website at k2fly.com/investor/corporate-governance/.

The Company undertakes a comprehensive screening and verification process prior to appointing a director, or putting that person forward as a candidate to ensure that person is competent, experienced, and would not be impaired in any material way from undertaking the duties of director. The Company provides relevant information to shareholders for their consideration about the attributes of candidates together with whether the Board supports the appointment or re-election.

The terms of the appointment of non-executive directors, executive directors and senior executives are agreed upon and set out in writing at the time of each appointment. The agreement sets out: remuneration (including superannuation entitlements); requirement to disclose interests and matters which may affect independence; requirement to comply with key corporate policies (including the Company's Code of Conduct and Securities Trading Policy); policy on when directors may seek independent professional advice at the expense of the Company (which generally should be whenever directors, especially non-executive directors, judge such advice necessary for them to discharge their responsibilities as directors); the circumstances in which the director's office becomes vacant; indemnity and insurance arrangements; ongoing rights of access to corporate information; and ongoing confidentiality obligations.

A copy of the Code of Conduct and Securities Trading Policy adopted by the Company are available from the Company's website at k2fly.com/investor/corporate-governance/.

The Company has not adopted a formal diversity policy. The Company respects and values the benefit of diversity throughout the Company in order to enrich the Company's perspective, improve corporate performance, increase shareholder value and maximise the probability of achievement of the Company's objectives. However, given the size and nature of the Company's operations, the Company has not implemented a formal policy with respect to diversity.

The Board considers that a diverse range of skills, backgrounds, knowledge and experience is required to effectively govern the Company. The Board believes that orderly succession and renewal contributes to strong corporate governance and is achieved by careful planning and continual review.

The Company does not maintain a nomination committee, as it is considered that the current size of the Board does not warrant the formal establishment of a separate committee. The Board as a whole is responsible for the nomination and selection of directors.

It is intended that the Board should comprise Directors having qualifications, skills, expertise and experience from a diverse range of backgrounds, including financial acumen, governance, regulatory, risk management and industry experience, which will assist the Board in fulfilling its responsibilities, as well as assisting the Company in achieving growth and delivering value to shareholders.

When the need for a new director is identified, the required experience and competencies of the new director will be defined in the context of this matrix and any gaps that may exist.

Generally, a list of potential candidates will be identified based on these skills required and other issues such as geographic location and diversity criteria. Candidates will be assessed against the required skills and on their qualifications, backgrounds and personal qualities. In addition, candidates are sought who have a proven track record in creating security holder value and the required time to commit to the position. Appropriate background and other checks are undertaken before finalising the appointment.

This process and the skills matrix are used in the consideration and any new appointments to the Board.

New directors are issued with a formal Letter of Appointment that sets out the key terms and conditions of their appointment, including director's duties, rights and responsibilities, the time commitment envisaged, and the Board's expectations regarding involvement with any Committee work.
